ABSTRACT

The six major sections which comprise this report are designed to provide members of the State School Library Media Supervisors Association with material pertinent to national information services. The first section offers an overview of the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC), discussing its history, objectives, organization and products and giving a roster of the individual clearinghouses. A list of state dissemination liaison representatives is offered, followed by a directory of the 510 organizations which have standing orders to receive the monthly collections of microfiche which the ERIC Document Reproduction Service distributes. The fourth section contains a bibliography of Putting Research into Educational Practice (PREP) reports, while the fifth names information centers established in various states to assist local agencies in locating educational information. The final portion of the report identifies the Research and Development Centers and Educational Laboratories funded by the National Institute of Education to develop and implement educational innovations. INFORMATION SERVICES

The attached packet of material is designed to provide members of the State School Library/Media Supervisors Association with background information pertinent to National information services. Much of it is specifically related to the National Institute of Education (NIE). (Director, Tom Glennan)

> With the passage by Congress and the signature by the President of the 1972 Education Amendments Bill, the National Center for Educational Communication and its dissemination functions are transferred to the new National Institute of Education (NIE). NIE and the Office of Education comprise the Division of Education headed by an Assistant Secretary for Education, in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. As the major Federal agency for educational research and development, NIE is responsible for the R & D activities previously administered by OE and will work to bring about coordination of educational research among the Federal agencies. NIE will conduct in-house and contracted research, both basic and applied, and will disseminate the results of that research to educational systems at all levels throughout the nation. Its basic aims are ..... *to bring about those scientific inquiries into the learning process which will best promote equal educational opportunity for all Americans ... *to identify reforms which will alleviate the problems of American education ... *to advance the practice of education, as an art, a science and a profession ... *to build an effective educational research and development.
>
> (ERIC User Notes, August 1972)

The NIE Dissemination Task Force administers the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) and distributes the PREP Reports (Putting Research into Educational Practice). Before the transfer from OE the dissemination objectives were:

1. Development of a national communication system to support State and local linkage centers, college and university libraries, and commercial marketing services.

2. Provide interpretative summaries that distill and synthesize information about exemplary practices on priority issues. Disseminate and facilitate use of the resulting condensed knowledge through a variety of distribution means.

(from flyer on NCEC, OE 72-93)

NIE also currently administers the "Research and Development Centers" the "Educational Laboratories", and other related programs. Earlier statements of purpose have been assumed still to apply:

1. The basic objective of the . . . Research and Development Centers is to create improved educational programs and practices through systematic long-term programs of research and development . . . .

2. Educational Laboratories are primarily engaged in educational development; that is, the precise formulation, field testing, and refinement of curriculum materials, teaching procedures, and organizational arrangements for adoption by local school systems. . . .

3. The National Program for Early Childhood Education was established to contribute to the improvement of early childhood education practice by carrying out those activities which will result in new knowledge about young children and by developing materials and practices which can be used by those individuals and agencies with responsibility for the education of young children . . . .

4. (NIE) also administers a planning and management systems development program carried on by the National Center for Higher Education Management Systems.

EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTERS

I. History

Since June 1964, the U. S. Office of Education has maintained the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC), a national information system which disseminates educational research results, research-related materials, and other research information. Through a network of specialized centers, or clearinghouses, each of which is responsible for a particular educational area, information is acquired, evaluated, abstracted, indexed, and listed in Research in Education (RIE). This reference publication provides access to report literature in the field of education. RIE has been unable to incorporate a proper awareness of the vast amount of literature published in periodicals and journals. This inadequate coverage has indicated the need for a second publication devoted exclusively to the periodical literature, drawing upon the subject expertise of the ERIC clearinghouses and vocabulary of descriptor headings developed for the indexing of educational literature. Current Index to Journals in Education was thus created in 1969 to serve the information needs of the practicing educator, reference librarian, and educational researcher.

II. Three Major ERIC Objectives

A. First Objective: to guarantee accessibility to current significant educational reports from all U.S. sources. (There are some foreign language sources but they are not reported regularly.)

B. Second Objective: to generate interpretive summaries and annotated bibliographies on critical educational issues and to disseminate these widely.

C. Third Objective: to help infuse new information into educational planning systems.

III. Organization of ERIC: a hybrid system, i.e., it is both centralized and decentralized.

A. Five Components

1. Headquarters staff in the National Institute of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington D.C. It is responsible for 1) policy 2) system design 3) management 4) coordination and 5) evaluation.

2. Clearinghouses. (decentralized, subject-focused) Staffed by subject specialists. Acquire documents to augment reports acquired by the central staff from government agencies and large producers.

3. Leasco Corporation. A business firm that converts inputs from clearinghouses to magnetic tapes which are sent to the Government Printing Offices for printing and sale to Research in Education, ERIC's monthly report announcement journal.

4. Eric Document Reproduction Service (EDRS). Sells full texts of documents cited in RIE.

5. CCM Information Corporation. Publishes Current Index to Journals in Education (CIJE).

IV. Products of ERIC

A. RIE: announcement journal for reports abstracted; Subject-Author-Title indexes; 1,000 reports per month; annual and semi-annual cumulative indexes. Current subscriptions from Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Back issues available from CCM Information Corporation, 866 3rd Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

B. CIJE: announcement journal to periodical citations; covers 530 English language journals; annotated; Subject-Author indexes. CCM Information Corporation (see address above).

C. Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors: "Source of all Subject headings used for indexing and for retrieval of documents and journal articles in the ERIC collection." CCM Information Corporation (see address above).

D. ERICTERMS: "matches the controlled indexing vocabulary of the ERIC Thesaurus to the ERIC accession numbers that have been indexed by each term." (gives count of entries under each subject heading) Leasco Systems and Research Corporation, 4833 Rugby Avenue, Suite 303, Bethesda, Maryland 20014.

E. ERIC Document Reproductions: (microfiche or hard-cover) ERIC Document Reproduction Service, Post Office Drawer O, Bethesda, Maryland 20014.

F. ERICTAPES: ERIC Master Data Base in machine readable form on magnetic tape. Leasco Systems and Research Corporation (see address above.)

V. Explanation for Clearinghouse chart

The information found on the following chart was, for the most part, taken from the newsletters printed by the individual clearinghouse. Some clearinghouses were very explicit, giving precise criteria for the inclusion of articles in RIE. Others said nothing. Each clearinghouse did, however, state in at least a sentence or two its scope and purpose. Also, dates for address changes, personnel changes, and even founding dates for particular clearinghouses were not always to be found. The following chart should, however, give at least a general idea of the activities of each ERIC clearinghouse.

VI. Current Index to Journals in Education - Coverage

CIJE currently covers 530 publications. The majority of these publications represent the core periodical literature in the field of education. The other publications indexed in CIJE represent coverage devoted to peripheral literature relating to the field of education. This unique feature assures access to important articles published in those periodicals which fall outside the scope of education-oriented literature.

All articles listed in CIJE are indexed by one of the 18 ERIC Clearinghouses or the ERIC Facility. Citations to journals in a particular issue of CIJE represent the titles received by the various processing centers during the month previous to publication. The Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors is used for assigning descriptive terms listed in the Subject Index.

STATE DISSEMINATION LIAISON REPRESENTATIVES

In order to expedite the collection and dissemination of materials for the Educational Resource Information Centers, states have been asked to designate State Dissemination Liaison Representatives for the National Institute of Education. State Department personnel should channel all publications through these representatives for possible inclusion in ERIC. These people should be aware of, if not involved in, the dissemination of such information and should be an early source.

ERIC MICROFICHE

STANDING ORDER CUSTOMERS

(Arranged by Geographic Location)

As of February 1973

ERIC PROCESSING AND REFERENCE FACILITY

OPERATED FOR THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION BY LEASCO SYSTEMS & RESEARCH CORPORATION
4833 RUGBY AVENUE, SUITE 303, BETHESDA, MARYLAND 20014

INTRODUCTION

"Standing Order" customers are defined as those organizations which have placed orders with the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS) to receive on a regular and continuous basis the entire ERIC microfiche output.

There are currently (through January 1973) a total of 510 organizations receiving monthly shipments from EDRS on a Standing Order basis. It should be understood that this list constantly fluctuates somewhat as new orders are placed, old orders are cancelled, or purchase orders run out (or are reactivated as a result of running out). This Directory lists "Ship-To" addresses for these organizations in a basic arrangement by geographic location, e.g., states of the United States--Alabama to Wyoming--followed by foreign organizations.

Not all the organizations appearing on this list are open to the public; nor do they all include complete collections of the earlier documents. Where there is any doubt as to the accessibility or extent of a given microfiche collection, it is advisable to make inquiries in advance of a visit.

This Directory has been prepared by the ERIC Processing & Reference Facility as a reference for the use of the ERIC network, associated organizations, and other interested parties. All inquiries concerning ERIC microfiche, whether on a Standing Order or on-demand basis, should however, be addressed directly to EDRS at the following address:

PREP REPORTS

PREP (PUTTING RESEARCH INTO EDUCATIONAL PRACTICE) is published periodically by the National Institute of Education as a part of its dissemination task. PREP is:

- .A series of monthly reports which focus the light of research on current educational problems.
- .A synthesis and interpretation of research, development and current best practice on specific educational topics.
- .The best thinking of researchers interpreted by specialists for the practitioner in nontechnical language.
- .A series of reports targeted to specific educational audiences--the administrator, school board member, teacher, curriculum specialist and teacher educator.
- .Information in the public domain which can be adapted to meet local needs.
- .A format for disseminating significant research and development findings to the practitioner.

Reports are available from:

- .ERIC Document Reproduction Service, Post Office Drawer O, Bethesda, Maryland 20014.

  See monthly issues of Research in Education for abstracts and prices of PREP reports in microfiche and hard copy.

- .Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. 20402--beginning with report No. 24.

INFORMATION CENTERS

The need for more adequate dissemination of ERIC, PREP, and other information pertinent to education led to the establishment of pilot communication, or information and retrieval center projects. The goal was to establish at least one information center in each state to assist local schools and communities in locating and applying current educational information.

State and local education information centers funded in fiscal year 1972 are as follows:

Developmental Centers

California: Mr. Frank W. Mattas
Educational Resource Center
San Mateo County Board of Education
333 Main Street
Redwood City, California 94063

The Educational Resource Center offers information services to counties on a subscription basis; representatives from county and district officers act as linkers and receive in-service training.

District of Columbia: Dr. Mildred C. Cooper
Research Information Center
Public Schools of the District of Columbia
415 12th Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20004

The Center provides three liaison researchers as a link between the resources in the central information center and teachers, principals, librarians and reading specialists in sixteen elementary schools.

Florida: Mr. Cecil Golden
Florida Educational Resources Information Center
State of Florida Department of Education
Knott Building
Tallahassee, Florida 32304

Information on request is provided through several types of individuals trained in information skills, including subject matter and general education specialists within the state department, vocational educational representatives in five districts of the state, and representatives of the state junior colleges and universitites.

Iowa: Miss Mary Jo Bruett
INFORMS
Educational Media Section
Iowa State Department of Public Instruction
Grimes State Office Building
Des Moines, Iowa 50319

Representatives from regional and joint county offices are serving as links with local educators.

Kansas: Dr Richard Herlig
Project Communicate
Kansas State Department of Education
120 East 10th Street
Topeka, Kansas 66612

Two full time field agents are provided to work in the target districts to negotiate, fulfill information requests and provide follow-up.

Massachusetts: Dr. James F. Baker
Massachusetts State Education Information Center Network
Massachusetts Department of Education
182 Tremont Street
Boston, Massachusetts 02116

Dr. Richard J. Lavin
Merrimack Educational Center
101 Mill Road
Chelmsford, Massachusetts 01824

Five field agents are available to interpret research findings for the instructional staff.

North Dakota: Dr. Edward Krahmer
Resource Information Center
Bureau of Educational Research and Services
Box 8009 University Station
Grand Forks, North Dakota 58201

The librarian in each school in the state has been identified by project representatives from the University of North Dakota to serve as a local contact person. They are being trained at the center in the use of ERIC.

Pennsylvania: Mr. Richard Brickley
Research and Information Services for Education
198 Allendale Road
King of Prussia, Pennsylvania 19406

The Resource Center's primary objective is to train field agents from each intermediate unit within the state about the processes of resource information storage and retrieval.

Rhode Island: Dr Charles Mojkowski
Director
600 Mt. Pleasant Avenue
Providence, Rhode Island 02911

Texas: Mr. Charles Nix
Texas Education Information Service Project
6504 Tracor Lane
Austin, Texas 78721

This project is developing an information component to serve renewal sites. A full time extension agent operating from Teacher Centers or renewal cites will provide linkage.

Operational Information Centers

Oregon: Mr. George Katagiri
Office of Planning and Research
Oregon Board of Education
942 Lancaster Drive, N.E.
Salem, Oregon 97310

Comprehensive information services are available to local educators stationed in counties.

South Carolina: Dr. William E. Ellis
Office of Planning and Research
South Carolina State Department of Education
Rutledge State Office Building
Columbia, South Carolina 29201

Field agents are supplied in target areas, including one metropolitan district, to provide personalized information services to educators.

Utah: Dr. Kenneth Lindsay
Office of Planning and Research
Utah State Board of Education
136 East South Temple
Salt Lake City, Utah 84111

Field agents from the regional centers provide information to local educators in rural areas of the state.

Educational Reference Center

District of Columbia: Educational Reference Center
U. S. Office of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20202

The Educational Reference Center's primary objective is to do DIALOG searches for the Office of Education and the National Institute of Education staff and to provide other reference material for the staff. The ERC is located in the lobby of the Office of Education Building and the ERIC on-line computer searching in room 1135.

FEDERALLY FUNDED RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CENTERS AND LABORATORIES

The Research and Development Centers and Educational Laboratories are major originators of educational innovations and other components of knowledge. Beginning in 1972 they are funded under the National Institute of Education.

Research and Development Centers

The basic objective of the university based Research and Development Centers is to create improved educational programs and practices through systematic long-term programs of research and development. Each center brings together resources and inter-disciplinary talent to focus on a signficant educational problem.

Center for Research and Development in Higher Education
University of California, Berkeley
1947 Center Street
Berkeley, California 94720
